HADDONDALE

Dahlias

1931

Greetings

We take pleasure in presenting our 1931 Dahlia Catalogue. It contains the best of the newer and standard varieties.

In compiling this catalogue, we realized that a large list is sometimes very confusing to the buyer and have, therefore, carefully selected the Dahlias listed herein as to color, size and variety.

We carry other varieties not listed in this catalogue and if you have in mind certain Dahlias which we have not listed, write us, perhaps we can supply them. Let us have your requirements.

May we call to your attention a new Haddondale Dahlia, "Mrs. William M. Potts," which is being offered for the first time this year. This Semi-cactus Dahlia has given a wonderful account of itself in our gardens, and if given the proper care and attention we know it will meet with your entire satisfaction.

We also wish to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and customers for their patronage and the confidence placed in us. With this incentive we are striving to do our utmost to keep this valued confidence and will spare no effort to give satisfaction to the patrons of Haddondale Gardens.

HADDONDALE DAHLIA GARDENS

¹¹ Haddon Heights « « « « « New Jersey

We extend a cordial invitation to all growers of Dahlias to join the American Dahlia Society. Initiation fee and first year dues, $2.00. This includes a one year subscription to the Society Bulletin which is published every three months. For further information write William J. Rathgeber, Secretary, 198 Norton Street, New Haven, Conn.

DAHLIAS

HOW TO PLANT: Roots should be planted in holes 6 inches deep, laid flat down (not on end) with eye or sprout facing upward, and cover with earth not over 2 inches in depth, leaving a small hollow, filling in as the plant develops. Do not plant in or over compost or hot manure. The rows should be from 4 to 5 feet apart, and the plants in the row from 2 to 3 feet apart.

IRRIGATION: During real hot weather, if your Dahlias need water, wet the ground at least once a week, so that it will penetrate about a foot deep. Cultivate as soon as sufficient drainage has taken place and do not water again until necessary.

CULTIVATION: As the plant develops and the feed roots come toward the surface, the ground should be worked rather shallow around each hill for the radius of at least a foot. Still work the balance of the ground rather deep and bring some fresh soil to the plant at each cultivation, giving the plant a new supply of food and protecting the surface roots from the heat of the sun. Have the hills mounted 5 or more inches by the middle of September. This will help support the stalks.

BRANCHING: Allow only one stalk to grow out of ground. Pinch out the crown or center above the second pair of leaves or eyes. The principle of taking out the center is to develop the eyes, which are located at the base of the leaves, between the stem and the leaf. The top pair of eyes will make themselves evident in surprisingly short time, and the shoots or laterals on most varieties should be pinched back again, leaving one pair of eyes on each branch. By the time these get a start, the second or lower set of eyes on the main stalk will have developed along with the four above. These six stems should bear the first six flowers.

DISBUDDING: When the terminal bud on each of these stems is about the size of a small acorn, or as soon as the side shoots are large enough to pull out, disbud by taking out all the side buds and shoots except the lower pair on each of the six branches. Leave only one side shoot on each, should you desire very large flowers. These new branches should be handled as the previous set. All the disbudding and pruning is not solely for the benefit of the first six flowers, but mainly to keep the bush low and properly branched for the future crop.

FERTILIZER: We suggest that bone meal and sheep manure be used. Scatter fertilizer over the ground before plowing. The latter part of August give another application of sheep manure well worked into ground, if possible. Do not use FRESH manure of any kind.

Haddon Dale 1931 Introduction

Mrs. William M. Potts

Our new and extraordinary introduction which has created a sensation, is illustrated above. Has received wonderful recognition wherever shown, because it is different.

It is a semi-cactus Dahlia best described as buttercup yellow, with petals tipped and blended carmine.

Reverse of petals being striped and blended violet-rose. Petals twilled.

Very large flowers with tight centers on long sturdy stems. Profuse bloomer and recommended for exhibition and garden use.
